The incredible story of Marc Chambon Neri Guzman "El Huracán" is worth a television series despite being very real.

Undoubtably, a film will be made about his very inspiring and fascinating life path.

01

The art of fighting is an integral part of my life and has been present as long as I can remember. Throughout my adolescence, sport has always been a reference to which I clung. It allowed me to keep my head above water and gave me an unshakeable inner strength. However, despite my talent recognized by the sports academies in soccer and combat sports, I had to put aside my passion several times because of life circumstances that led me to make bad choices.

► My name is Marco and I am a former convict who grew up in a big family. Despite the love I received from my parents who taught me fundamental values, I had to overcome many difficult challenges since an early age. All of these experiences have helped me to become a loyal and honest man who recognizes the value of things.

► When I turned 18, I became the Swiss champion of English boxing. Life gave me another reason to fight when I became a father for the first time. I decided then to settle down in order to raise my daughter Juliette alone and in the best possible conditions. Therefore, i had to give up again my sports career in order to devote myself to my child on whom all my love relies.

Due to personal reasons, I decided to go overseas with my young daughter. After a default judgement, I was prosecuted by Interpol which is why I had to go into exile in Latin America for almost 10 years. Despite my difficult daily life, I faced all the challenges and was able to move forward without ever giving up.

► I decided at that time to take charge of my career and to finally accomplish what I didn't have time to achieve before, being alone with my daughter. The training resumed in the best way, I was able to be coached by true living legends of English boxing and MMA who saw in me a great champion. At the same time, I developed a social structure to help young people in difficulty in bad neighbourhood of the Dominican Republic.

My life has changed completely thanks to the wonderful encounter with my current courageous and loving wife who has always supported me without any judgements. We got married and have two beautiful children: Marco Junior and Taina.

► The extreme conditions of this preparation in the Dominican Republic allowed me to excel every day alongside active fighters with world titles. Preparing to fight is a very difficult thing to do mentally and physically. I had to add to this constant struggle for raising my children, dealing with being a fugitive, dealing with the rules of criminal organizations or gangs and trying to finance my daily life in a foreign country.

It was a huge challenge that I was able to overcome because of my survival instinct.

Just like in an MMA cage !

I became a true warrior, won many battles and through these living experiences I got a lot of strength and acquired a huge determination.

05

My descent into hell begins when I am extradited. I went from a family life and a sportsman to the life of a prisoner.

From one day to the next, I experienced the separation from my children, the isolation for 23 hours a day, every day, for almost 4 years, the betrayal, the solitude, the violence, the humiliation and the inhumanity of the prison environment.

► I have reached a professional level in a very short time. The most influential promoters approach me in order to organize a fight for the title and the belt of the most prestigious MMA event in the Dominican Republic and which is the gateway to the USA. Despite my determination, my good faith, the sacrifices and all the efforts made to revive my career, my past catches up with me and everything collapses!

► I am now sure of one thing: the worst is behind me and I intend to live the best through this project !

Today, settled in Switzerland, I take back my career from where I left it with an even stronger desire to win than before! I transformed the negative into positive in order to find a family and professional stability.

I am a true martial arts and combat sports enthusiast that I practice every day.

To excel, I need to constantly push my limits. My faith, my past and the love of my family is a bottomless source of inspiration from which I draw my energy every day !

I need your support to make my dream a reality and not waste any more time to reach my goal that has eluded me for too many years. I have invested a lot of time and energy in this project but I know that the road to success will still be costly. By supporting me today, you are investing in something bigger than a simple fundraiser. I want to compete with the best fighters and represent with honor the people who have supported me.

► I currently weigh over 80 kilos, which makes me a strong and sturdy fighter.

Although the athletes I train with tell me that I am a true champion, my goal is to become a recognized fighter in my sport and to be inducted into the MMA hall of fame.

MARC CHAMBON NERI GUZMAN « EL HURACÁN »

My philosophy is simple:
There is no such thing as defeat and I will not let anything stand in the way of my dream.

As words fail me, to show you my true determination, I let you watch this video which illustrates the level at which I am after 6 years of maintaining myself alone, without a professional trainer :
